I'll add that tomorrow the notice for the petition response is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register. The public inspection for tomorrow includes this notice: <https://www.federalregister.gov/public-inspection/2021-00456/reasons-for-agency-response-toxic-substances-control-act>.

The docket is typically uploaded the same day that the notice publishes. My understanding is that our docketing team is a bit busy these days so there could be a bit of a delay but the norm from my experience is that the docket materials usually post by the afternoon of the day on which something publishes in the Federal Register.

Dave --

Would it be possible for you to send to me via email a copy of the final decision letter after it has been released to counsel for the Petitioners?

Thank you for consideration of our recent submission and this related request.
